

i understand that you might be introducing a new broadcast service knwn as Low Power FM. There may be some advocats of LPFM that see little value in national or regional services such as K_LOVE. I am writing to you know that I am but one of hundres of thousands of people who listen to K-LOVE. The services provided by K-LOVE means as much to the nurishment of my soul and heart as food does to my body. I would not want to be without it or other stations like them. I am in the field of education and can tell you with certainty that the elimination of stations like K-LOVE will have a profoundly negative effect on our communities, especially on our young people. For many of our citizens, stations like K-LOVE is the only place where they hear words of encouragement and can access help. I believe that a society which attempts to eliminate positive spiritual teachings will ultimately increase the amount of crime in their communities. I have heard from a number of people of all ages that are profoundly affected by what they hear on stations like K+LOVE. These people are the ones who take on leadership in their communities with the intent to create a society that works for everyone, with no one left behind.
